

IGov Workshop: Theorising Governance Change for a Sustainable Economy

30th April 2013: Eliot Room @ British Library, 96 Euston Road, London NW1 2DB

9.15 Tea/coffee

9.40 Introduction to day

- Catherine Mitchell

9.45 – 11.00 Panel 1: Chair Catherine Mitchell

- Caroline Kuzemko and Matthew Lockwood – The Importance of Governance for Innovation: a Theory of Managed Energy Transition
- Ronan Bolton and Tim Foxon - Negotiating the energy policy ‘trilemma’ – an analysis of UK energy governance from a socio-technical systems perspective
- Audley Genus – The Governance of Sustainability Transitions: a discourse-institutional approach

11.00 – 11.15 Break

11.15 – 12.30 Panel 2: Chair Caroline Kuzemko

- Frank Geels – Politics and power in low-carbon electricity transitions: A multi-level analysis of green niche-innovations and resilient regimes
- Mark Winskel – Accelerated energy innovation, and its implications for innovation theory
- Florian Kern – The Politics of low carbon transitions – protected niches, actors networks, narratives and changing contexts

12.30 – 1.30 Lunch

1.30 – 2.45 Panel 3: Chair Matthew Lockwood

- Peter Newell - From transitions to transformation: The Political Economy of Governing Energy in a Carbon Constrained World
- Hugh Pemberton – Why waste a good crisis? Making an economic policy revolution
- Sarah Lester – Regulatory change in UK renewable energy support policies: the role of discourse and ideology

2.45 – 3.00 Break

3.15 – 4.30 Panel 4: Chair Tim Foxon

- Jan Webb – “We’re not talking about lab experiments”: Emerging Governance Practices for Sustainable Energy in the UK
- Katy Roelich – The role of governance in accelerating transition towards more integrated, service-oriented infrastructure operation
- Lucy Baker – Governing transformation? Climate finance in South Africa’s energy sector

4.30 – 4.45 Wrap up and next steps

- Catherine Mitchell